You'll be surprised at the small cost of a complete one-family orchard

Most people believe that even small orchards or berry patches are expensive, but nothing could be further from the truth. As a matter of fact, they are cheap, and the small investment in a few fruit trees or berry bushes pays bigger dividends than anything else that grows, because care, after they are once planted, is practically nothing, whereas all other crops require considerable labor.

For instance, a family orchard containing 20 apple trees, 20 peach trees, 5 pear trees, 7 cherry trees, 4 plum trees, 100 raspberry bushes, 100 blackberry bushes, 300 strawberry plants, 100 asparagus plants, 12 rhubarb plants, 12 grape vines, 10 gooseberries, and 5 currant plants, a total of 695 pieces will cost you an average of about 7c apiece.

you'll be surprised how easy you can own it, and in a way, you'll never miss the money

The practice of buying improvements for your home, or equipment which will save the expense of labor, is now in vogue universally. The large mail order houses now sell most anything you want on monthly payments.

The New Haven Nurseries has always endeavored to meet the needs of their patrons in every way, and is glad to announce that the Home Orchard pictured inside this folder, or any other nursery stock you may want, can now be purchased from our catalog on this plan, a small payment down, and the balance in monthly payments, so small you'll never miss the money.

An orchard, of any size, is a permanent improvement on your property, and increases in value with the years if properly cared for.
